1. This Office action is in response to the election filed August 5, 2008. Claims 1-24 are pending; claims 15-23 have been withdrawn as directed toward a non-elected invention.

Applicant's election of the invention of Group I without traverse is acknowledged. The restriction is hereby made final.

2. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

3. Claims 1 and 11 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 14 of U.S. Patent No. 7,250,877. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the instant claims are broader in scope than the patented claim or any differences are considered obvious.

Regarding claim 1, this claim is a broader version of claim 14 and thus, the claims are anticipated. The courts have held that anticipation epitomizes obviousness.

Regarding claim 11, claim 14 recites a light source. It would have been obvious to use an artificial light source to supplement ambient light based on common sense.

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1-3, 5-8, 11, and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Villeneuve (4,993,308).

Regarding claim 1, the claimed body is shown as item 14; the claimed moveable element is shown as item 18; and the claimed light sensor is shown as item 30.

Regarding claim 2, see figure 1 which shows a plurality of channels with movable elements and light sensors.

Regarding claims 3 and 5, see figure 2.

Regarding claims 6 and 11, see col. 3, lines 30-40 and figure 2.

Regarding claims 7 and 8, see figure 2.

Regarding claim 13, see col. 3, lines 25-35.

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

8. Claims 4, 10, 12, 14, and 24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Villeneuve.

Regarding claim 4, Villeneuve teaches in col. 4, lines 1-5 that other moveable objects may be used instead of the balls. A moveable flap would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art based on the suggestion in the reference.

Regarding claim 10, it would have been obvious to include a window to allow ambient light to reach the sensor. Villeneuve shows a light source that transmits light through a window.

Regarding claim 12, the use of a photoelectric sensor to turn on a light in dark conditions is conventional. It would have been obvious to use the conventional means to solve the same problem.

Regarding claim 14, it would have been obvious to use the artificial light at a desired intensity to make the device functional. Such a level would be considered the minimum intensity level.

Regarding claim 24, Villeneuve teaches the use of the input device for a computer system.

9. Claim 9 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
